

We like the no call list. Before the no call law our phone was ringing constantly with them. We would have to screen our calls. Also I work a midnight shift and would get awakened by the phone. It's been nice after the no call list law.